Ryan Smith is cofounder and CEO of Qualtrics, the world’s leading experience-management company. As CEO, Smith oversees the entire Qualtrics executive team with a specific focus on the go-to-market operations of Qualtrics, including global sales, marketing, and partnerships.

Smith cofounded Qualtrics in 2002 with his father and brother. As CEO, he has grown the company from a basement startup to one of the fastest-growing technology companies in the world, with more than 10,000 customers, including 75 percent of the Fortune 100 companies and 99 of the top 100 business schools. In the private market, Qualtrics raised $400 million in funding from Accel Partners, Sequoia Capital, and Insight Venture Partners. Qualtrics was acquired by SAP in January 2019 for $8 billion. At the time of its acquisition, Qualtrics was the largest aggregate investment in Accel’s history and the largest private enterprise software acquisition of all time.

In 2016, Smith cofounded 5 for the Fight, a campaign to eradicate cancer by supporting groundbreaking cancer research. The goal of 5 for the Fight is to crowdfund cancer research, inviting everyone to give $5 for the fight against cancer.

Smith was named to Fortune magazine’s 2016 40 Under 40, a list of the most influential and successful young people in business. In 2013 Forbes listed him as one of “America’s Most Promising CEOs Under 35.” He has been featured in Fortune, Forbes, Harvard Business Review, the Wall Street Journal, Fast Company, the New York Times, TechCrunch, and USA Today, and he has appeared on CNBC, Bloomberg TV, and Fox Business. Smith is a frequent guest lecturer at Stanford University’s Graduate School of Business, the Harvard Business School, and the BYU Marriott School of Business.
